

Welcome to the Family History and Research Website of the Joseph Theron and Neva Almira Harper Smith Family

We would like to make the years of research available to anyone who might benefit from it.

Through sacrifice by many people of time and money and with the invention of the internet, we are able to share this information with you.

Our goal is to share what we have in the hopes that you might be willing to share with us.

If you find any mistakes or if you have better information, we would love to add it or update corrections to the website so we all can have the best possible information.
